NCSU Friends of the Library Spring Book Sale Scheduled for April 16–18

The Friends of the Library of North Carolina State University will hold its fifteenth annual book sale from April 16 through 18, 2004. The sale will take place on the Brickyard in a large tent in front of the D. H. Hill Library. It is set to coincide with the 2004 North Carolina Literary Festival on the NCSU campus from April 15 through 18.

On Friday morning, April 16, there is a preview sale open only to members of the Friends of the Library. The general public can shop on April 16 from 12:00 noon until 4:00 P.M.; on Saturday, April 17, from 9:00 A.M. until 6:00 P.M.; and on Sunday, April 18, from 12:00 noon until 5:00 P.M. Proceeds from the sale go to the NCSU Libraries Preservation Endowment.

Thousands of books are available, as well as CDs and audio books. Categories include a variety of scientific textbooks, fiction, history, health and self-help, children's books, and foreign language.

North Carolina State University will host the 2004 Literary Festival during this weekend, which is expected to attract more than 10,000 visitors to listen to nearly 100 southern writers. The festival provides readers of all ages with the unique opportunity to interact with some of their favorite published authors.

The D. H. Hill Library is located on Hillsborough Street, directly across from the Wachovia Bank. For additional information, please call the Friends of the Library at (919) 515-2841 or visit its Web site at <http://www.lib.ncsu.edu/friends/>.
